SKIING CAMPOUT

In January, the Scouts went to Bittersweet Ski Resort in Otsego Michigan. The trip was originally planned for Swiss Valley Ski Resort, but due to low snow levels, the trip was changed to allow a better experience for the Scouts. They Scouts slept in cabins this time, since skiing can be a tiring activity. On Saturday morning, the scouts went to Bittersweet and got their equipment. The more inexperienced scouts took a very short lesson on the basics of skiing, and joined their friends on the slopes. Lunch was eaten at the resort and after a day full of fun, the Scouts went back to their cabins and left the next morning
